Rep. Bruce Braley, D-Iowa, is continuing to dog the Obama administration on the cost of the Libya operation.

He sent a letter today quizzing the White House about the proposed 2011 budget deal and a request in it to allocate $158 billion to an overseas operations contingency fund.

Braley says the fund has been used to pay for the operations in Libya.

"I believe the American people deserve a full accounting of where and how these Overseas Contingency Operations Funds will be used," he said in the letter.
